

I'll delight your senses

With the right care, I'll provide aromatherapy in summer, when I produce lots of white flowers with a pleasant, spicy scent. Take a sniff and enjoy the mood-enhancing power of smell

Rescue me!

Watch out in summer in case my pearls are starting to look a little scorched from too much direct sunlight. Just move me temporarily to a shadier spot.

Let's make babies

If you want to care for and share my offspring, snip off a stem in early summer, cut it into pieces, and lay them on fresh soil with a thin layer of sand in a pot. Watch till tiny roots appear before watering.

BE AWARE: I can be harmful if eaten, so keep me away from young children and pets
