

Give me a trim

When I reach the size that perfectly fits my home, you can keep me at that size by cutting off my top and pruning any branches to make me look fuller and healthier. I'd appreciate it if you did this in spring or summer.

Split me in two!

When I get too tall, you can split me into two plants by "air layering" me. Remove two leaves where you want to halve me. Strip away a $\frac{1}{2}$ in (1cm) ring of bark, then pack a handful of damp moss around me and cover with a plastic bag. When roots appear, cut me below the roots and pot up my top section as a new plant.

Get to know me

If you cut into my bark, I will drip a substance called latex, which can be used to make rubber. But avoid touching this sap, as it's an irritant.

BE AWARE: My sap is harmful if eaten, so keep me away from children and pets.