

RUBBER BAND PLANETS

We live on a planet, Earth, that orbits the star we call the sun. Seven other planets—some bigger and some smaller than Earth—also travel around the sun. The four planets closest to the sun, including Earth, are all rocky. The other four, much farther away, are made mostly of gas. All these planets, the sun, and lots of smaller objects, such as moons, are together called the solar system. You can make beautiful models of all eight planets, showing their colors and relative sizes, using just rubber bands and paper.
