

A group of children and an adult are working together to build a wall made of wooden planks in a rural setting. The children are of various ages and are actively engaged in the construction process, with some standing and others crouching. The adult, wearing a cap and a blue shirt, is standing on the right side, observing and possibly guiding the children. The background shows a simple wooden building and a lush green landscape.

A photograph of two traditional outrigger canoes on the water. The canoes have large, multi-colored sails (one with vertical stripes, the other with a geometric pattern). They are on a body of water with a wooden pier visible on the left and a cloudy sky in the background.
