

Noah's Ark

Hundreds of years after Adam and Eve, the world had filled up with wicked people. This made God sad. He saw that there was only one good family left on the Earth. They were Noah, his wife, and their three sons Shem, Ham, and Japheth.

God said to Noah, "I am going to send a great flood to wash the Earth clean. Everyone will be drowned except you and your family. You must build a big boat. You'll need space for a lot of food because there will be all the animals to feed."

"Animals?" said Noah.
"Yes," said God. "Two of each sort, a male and female, including birds and creepy crawlies—and even snakes."

