

God told Noah exactly how to build the boat, which was called an ark. All Noah's family had to help, his sons and their wives, because they were all going on the ark too. They painted the wooden ark with sticky tar to keep the water out.

Noah's neighbors thought he was crazy. "A boat!" they laughed. "Haven't you noticed there's no sea around here?" But Noah kept on building.

