

How the animals longed to get off! But Noah wanted to be sure it was safe. Three times he sent a dove out from the ark.

The first time, the dove flew straight back. The second time, it had an olive leaf in its beak. The third time the dove didn't come back at all. It had found somewhere green and fresh to live. So Noah lowered the gangplank and the animals bounded out of the ark.

