

Abraham and His Family

After the Flood, Noah's family grew and grew. All the people on the Earth were descended from Noah and his wife. And one of them became very special to God. The man's name was Abraham and his wife was Sarah.

One day, God sent for Abraham and told him that if he went where God led him, he would become the father of a great new nation.

Abraham was puzzled because he and Sarah had no children, but he did as God told him.

