

Abraham gathered all his people together and, with Sarah and his nephew Lot, set out for Canaan. When they were nearly there, Lot and his people decided to turn to the East . . .

. . . and Abraham and Sarah went to the West.

God spoke to Abraham again, telling him that all the land around him would belong to him and his family. He also said that Sarah would have a son. "Your family will be as many as there are stars in the sky," He said. Abraham was amazed. Surely Sarah was too old to have a child?

