

When they had reached the top, Abraham built an altar and piled wood on top. Isaac thought his father was going to kill a lamb. "Father, where is the lamb?" asked Isaac. "God will provide a lamb," said Abraham, but he could hardly speak for tears.

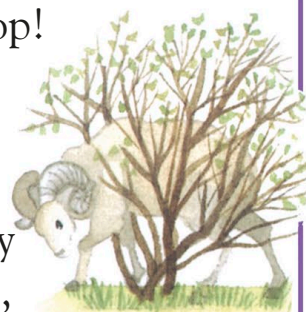

He set Isaac on the altar and took out his knife. The boy was terrified. Suddenly an angel called out, "Stop!

Now God knows how much you love Him.

You were ready to give Him your only son." Looking up,

Abraham saw a ram in the bushes, which he killed instead of Isaac.

Abraham had passed the test. He hugged Isaac tightly, then took him back home.

