

Jacob had given Joseph a beautiful coat, colored like the rainbow, and that made the brothers even more jealous. They hated Joseph so much that some of them wanted to harm him.

So one day while they were working in the fields, they grabbed Joseph and tore his splendid coat off him. They decided to kill Joseph and throw his body into a pit.

