

Moses in the Bulrushes

Jacob's family, the Israelites, grew very large. Long after Joseph and his brothers were dead, there were lots of them living in Egypt. The new Pharaoh did not like so many Israelites being in his country.

First he made them work as slaves. Then he ordered that all Israelite boy babies should be killed.

So Israelite women gave birth in secret. One family decided to save their newborn son in an unusual way. Even the baby's big sister, Miriam, was in on the plot.

