

So Jonah walked all the way to Nineveh.

He warned all the people that God would destroy the city if they didn't stop doing bad things.

Everyone, even the King, was sorry. They all promised to lead better lives in future. So God did not have to destroy the people after all. He was glad He could forgive them.