

The king of Egypt also had a dream—and only Joseph could understand it. “There will be seven years with lots of food, then seven years with no food,” Joseph explained.

