

Then they headed home by another road because God had warned them in a dream not to go back to Herod.