

After a while, the son came to his senses.

"I would be better off working for my father," he thought. "He treats his servants better than this." So he set off home.

His father saw his son coming and ran to meet him.

"I'm so sorry, Father. I don't deserve to be called your son."

But his father threw his arms around him and kissed him.

"I'm going to throw a big party to celebrate," he said, "because you were lost and now you are found."
