

Zacchaeus

In Jericho there lived a man named Zacchaeus. Nobody liked him because he was a tax collector for the Romans and because he was very rich.

Zacchaeus heard that Jesus was coming to town, and he wanted to see him. But he was so short he could not see past the crowds of people. So he climbed up a fig tree to get a good view.

