

Jesus's friends took his body
and placed it in a cool, dark cave.
They blocked the entrance with a big boulder.

The next morning, Mary, a friend of Jesus, went to the cave. The huge boulder had been rolled away and the cave was empty. Mary began to cry.

