

More words

Here are some more examples of types of words and how they are used in sentences.

Adverbs

An adverb is a word that gives more information about a verb.
She opened the present quickly.

A lot of adverbs end with the letters -ly. Quickly, slowly, sadly, and noisily are all adverbs.

Adverbs can also tell us when something happens.

I always do my homework.
We'll get home soon.

Prepositions

A preposition usually comes before a noun. It often shows where something is. The cat is on a branch in the tree.

Here are some common prepositions:

in
on into above
below
under between through near beside behind in front of

Follow the adverbs...

Follow the arrows linking the verbs to the adverbs.

cat under the basket

cat in the basket

cat between the chair legs