

a jewel

NOUN jewels

b A jewel is a precious stone that has been cut and polished.

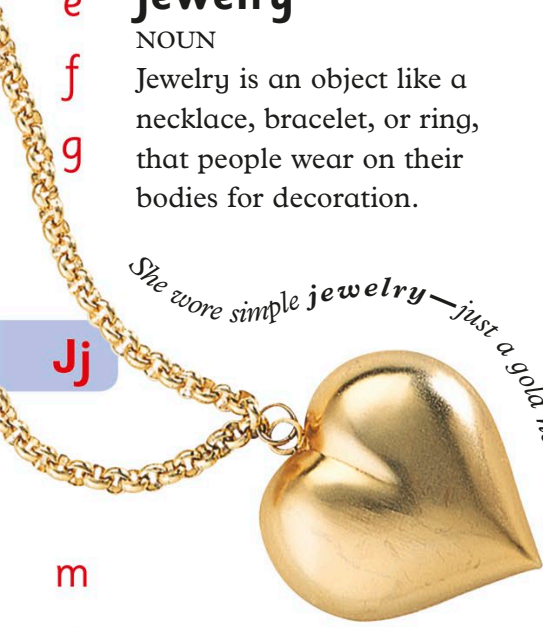

c Diamonds, rubies, and emeralds are all jewels.

e jewelry

NOUN

f Jewelry is an object like a necklace, bracelet, or ring, that people wear on their bodies for decoration.

She wore simple jewelry—just a gold heart.

Jjm*n*jigsaw puzzle

NOUN jigsaw puzzles

o A jigsaw puzzle is a game with a lot of different pieces that you have to fit together to make a picture. We finished the big jigsaw puzzle on the rainy afternoon.

sjob

NOUN jobs

t 1 A job is something that you have to do. Your job is to collect up all the pencils.

u 2 Your job is the work that you do to make money. What job do you want to do when you grow up?

yjockey

NOUN jockeys

z A jockey is a person who rides a horse in races.

jog

VERB jogs, jogging, jogged

When you jog, you run slowly and steadily.

join

VERB joins, joining, joined

1 When you join things, you fix them together.

2 When you join a club, you become a member of it.

joint

NOUN joints

A joint is a place in your body where two bones meet. Your knees and your elbows are joints.

joke

NOUN jokes

1 A joke is something that you say or do to make people laugh.

VERB jokes, joking, joked

2 If you are joking, you are not being serious but are saying or doing something just to make people laugh.

journalist

NOUN journalists

A journalist is someone who gathers news and writes about it in a newspaper or magazine, or talks about it on television.

journey

NOUN journeys

If you go on a journey, you travel somewhere.

joyful

ADJECTIVE

If you are joyful, you are very happy.

Judaism

NOUN

Judaism is the religion of Jewish people. Jews believe in one God and in the teachings of the Old Testament and the Talmud, the Jewish holy books.

judge

NOUN judges

1 A judge is the person in charge of a court, who decides how people should be punished when they have done something wrong.

2 The judge in a competition is the person who decides who the winner is.

VERB judges, judging, judged

3 When you judge something, you decide how good or bad it is. Who is going to judge the dog competition?

judo

NOUN

Judo is a sport in which two people fight using special movements to try and throw the other player to the ground.

jug

NOUN jugs

A jug is a container with a handle and a spout that you use for pouring liquids out of.

