

a octopus

NOUN octopuses

An octopus is a sea animal with eight long arms called tentacles.

d odd

ADJECTIVE odder, oddest

1 Something that is odd is strange. He wore odd clothes!

2 Odd socks or shoes do not go together as a pair.

3 An odd number cannot be divided by two. Three and seven are odd numbers.

j offer

VERB offers, offering, offered

If you offer something to someone, you ask them if they want it. He offered her grapes.

m office

NOUN offices

An office is a place where people work at desks.

Oo officer

NOUN officers

1 An officer is a member of the police.

2 In the army, navy, or airforce, an officer is someone who gives orders to other people.

t often

ADVERB

Often means many times. We often go swimming at the weekend.

w oil

NOUN

1 Oil is a thick, black liquid that is found underground. We use oil to make gasoline and plastics.

2 Oil is a thick, clear liquid used in cooking. It comes from plant seeds or the fruit of olive trees.

ointment

NOUN ointments

An ointment is a substance that you put on your skin when it is sore to make it better.

old

ADJECTIVE older, oldest

1 Something that is old was made a long time ago. We found some old toys in the attic.

2 Someone who is old has lived for a long time. My grandma is very old now.

old-fashioned

ADJECTIVE

Something that is old-fashioned is not new or modern. He drives an old-fashioned car.

onion

NOUN onions

An onion is a round vegetable with a strong taste and smell. The smell of onions sometimes makes your eyes water.

online

ADJECTIVE

When you are online, you are working on a computer that is connected to the internet.

only

ADJECTIVE

An only child has no brothers or sisters.

open

VERB opens, opening, opened

1 When you open a door, you move it to go through it.

2 When you open something, you take the lid or wrapping off it. May I open my presents now?

ADJECTIVE

3 Something that is open is not closed or shut. Come in, the door is open.

operation

NOUN operations

If you have an operation, doctors cut open your body to remove something or make something better.

opinion

NOUN opinions

Your opinion is what you think about something. In my opinion, he is the best golfer in the world.

opportunity

NOUN opportunities

An opportunity is a chance to do something interesting or exciting. He had the opportunity to go to Europe for the summer.

