

a original

ADJECTIVE

Something that is original is new and has not been copied.

d orphan

NOUN orphans

An orphan is a child whose parents have died.

g ostrich

NOUN ostriches

An ostrich is a tall bird from Africa that can run very fast but cannot fly.

j other

ADJECTIVE

The other person or thing is the second one. I've found one sock, but I can't find the other one.

n otter

NOUN otters

An otter is a furry animal with a long tail. Otters live near water and catch fish to eat.

r ough

VERB

If you ought to do something, you should do it. You ought to go to bed now.

u outdoors

ADVERB

Outdoors means not inside a building. If the weather is good we usually play outdoors in the summer.

y outline

NOUN outlines

The outline of something is its shape.

outside

NOUN

The outside of something is the part at the edge, not the part in the middle. They painted the outside of the house green.

oval

NOUN ovals

An oval is a shape that looks like a long circle.

oven

NOUN ovens

An oven is the part of a stove in which you can bake cakes and roast meat.

overboard

ADVERB

If someone falls overboard, they fall out of a boat into the water.

overhear

VERB overhears, overhearing, overheard

If you overhear something, you hear other people talking about it. I overheard her say that she failed the math test.

overseas

ADVERB

If you go overseas, you go to another country. My father travels a lot overseas.

overtake

VERB overtakes, overtaking, overtook, overtaken

If you overtake someone, you go past them so that you are in front of them.

overweight

ADJECTIVE

Someone who is overweight is too heavy.

owe

VERB owes, owing, owed

If you owe money to someone, they have lent it to you and you need to pay it back. My brother owes me money.

owl

NOUN owls

An owl is a bird that hunts at night for mice and other small animals. Owls have good hearing and can see well in the dark.

own

VERB owns, owning, owned
If you own something, it belongs to you. Do you own a bicycle?

owner (NOUN)

The owner of something is the person it belongs to. Who is the owner of this store?

oxygen

NOUN

Oxygen is a gas that is in the air around us. You cannot see, smell, or taste oxygen. Living things need oxygen in order to live.

