

Aa

admit

VERB admits, admitting, admitted

If you admit that you did something wrong, you tell the truth and say that you did it. He admitted that he had told a lie.

adopt

VERB adopts, adopting, adopted

When people adopt a child, they take the child into their home and become his or her parents.

adult

NOUN adults

An adult is a grown-up.

advantage

NOUN advantages

If you have an advantage, you have something good that will help you. Being tall gives you an advantage when you play basketball.

☛ Opposite: disadvantage

adventure

NOUN adventures

An adventure is something new and exciting that you do.

adventurous (ADJECTIVE)

Someone who is adventurous enjoys doing new and exciting things.

adverb

NOUN adverbs

An adverb is a word such as “quickly,” “slowly,” or “cheerfully” that describes how you do something.

Adverbs describe verbs.

There are two adverbs in the sentence: I opened the present slowly, then smiled happily.

advertise

VERB advertises, advertising, advertised

To advertise something means to tell people about it so they will want to buy it. A lot of companies advertise things on TV.

advertisement

NOUN advertisements

An advertisement is a picture or short film that shows you how good something is and tries to persuade you to buy it. You can shorten this word to ad.

advice

NOUN

If you give someone advice, you suggest to them what they should do.

advise

VERB advises, advising, advised

If you advise someone to do something, you tell them that they should do it. I advise you to wear a cycle helmet when you ride your bike.

affectionate

ADJECTIVE

If you are affectionate, you show someone that you like or love them. My cat is very affectionate.

afford

VERB affords, affording, afforded

If you can afford something, you have enough money to buy it. I can't afford that computer game.

afraid

ADJECTIVE

If you are afraid, you are scared. I am afraid of spiders.

afternoon

NOUN afternoons

The afternoon is the time between midday and the evening.

again

ADVERB

If you do something again, you do it one more time.

age

NOUN ages

Your age is how old you are. Write your name and age on the list.

aggressive

ADJECTIVE

Someone who is aggressive often argues and fights. An animal that is aggressive is likely to attack another animal.

ago

Ago means in the past. I started school two years ago.

agree

VERB agrees, agreeing, agreed

If you agree with someone, you think the same as they do. I agree with you that it's a really good movie.

☛ Opposite: disagree

