

coral

NOUN corals

Coral is a hard substance that is made of the skeletons of small sea animals. Coral is mainly found in warm seas.

core

NOUN cores

The core of something is the middle part of it.

cork

NOUN

A cork is a small object that is used to fill the top of a wine bottle.

corn

NOUN

Corn is a general name for the seeds of plants such as wheat, oats, or corn.

corner

NOUN corners

A corner is a point where two lines or edges meet, or the point where two roads meet.

correct

VERB corrects, correcting, corrected

1 If you correct your work, you find the mistakes and put them right. I corrected all the spelling mistakes in my homework.

2 Something that is correct is right and has no mistakes.

☛ Opposite: incorrect

correction (NOUN)

A correction is a change that you make to something so that it is correct.

correctly (ADVERB)

If you do something correctly, you do it right, without mistakes.

corridor

NOUN corridors

A corridor is a passage inside a building that leads to other rooms.

cost

NOUN

1 The cost of something is the amount you have to pay for it.

VERB costs, costing, cost

2 The amount that something costs is the amount that you have to pay for it. This game costs a lot of money.

costume

NOUN costumes

1 A costume is a set of clothes that you wear when you are dressing up in a play.

2 The costume of a time in history is the type of clothes that people wore then.

cot

NOUN cots

A cot is a small bed that is usually collapsible.

cottage

NOUN cottages

A cottage is a small house, especially in the country.

cotton

NOUN

1 Cotton is a type of cloth that is used for making clothes. My shirt is made of cotton.

2 Cotton is thread that you use for sewing. My grandmother needs more cotton thread so she can finish making a quilt for me.

cough

VERB coughs, coughing, coughed

When you cough, you push air out of your lungs with a sharp noise.

could ☛ See can.

count

VERB counts, counting, counted

1 When you count, you say numbers in the right order.

Can you count to 100?

2 When you count things, you say how many there are.

I counted five horses in the field.

a
b
Cc
d
e
f
g
h
i
j
k
l
m
n
o
v
w
x
y
z