

All about words

To make a sentence we use different types of words. Each word in a sentence has its own name and its own job to do.

Nouns

A noun is a word that names a thing, a person, or a place.

Cat, teacher, spoon, and city are all nouns.

A common noun names things, people, or places in general. Carrot, bird, friend, and school are all common nouns.

A proper noun names one particular person or place. Proper nouns begin with a capital letter. Tom, New York, and France are all proper nouns.

The days and months are also proper nouns, so they begin with capital letters, for example Monday, Tuesday, January, and February.

One or two?

We use a singular noun if there is only one of something. We use a plural noun if there is more than one. We usually add -s or -es to make plural nouns. For nouns that end in -y, we change the -y to -ies.

Singular	Plural
sock	socks
dog	dogs
box	boxes
princess	princesses
baby	babies
family	families

Curious plurals

A few nouns stay the same in the singular and the plural.

For example:

One sheep; three sheep

Some nouns change completely in the plural.

For example:

One mouse; two mice

One man; three men

Adjectives

An adjective is a word that is used to describe a noun.

Big, yellow, sticky, and dark are all adjectives.

An adjective can come before a noun. Look at the big, yellow Sun.

Or it can come after the verb be. The Sun is big and yellow.

Comparing things

To compare people or things, some adjectives can change. For example, tall becomes taller or the tallest.

Some adjectives do not change. Instead, we use more and the most before the adjective to compare people or things.

tall

This flower is beautiful.
