

The size of the Earth compared to the Sun

A false colour image, such as this, allows astronomers to identify different features on the Sun's surface.

It takes the Sun's heat about eight minutes to reach the Earth.

Solar flares

Blasts of hot gas sometimes flare up from the Sun's surface in huge arcs or loops. They reach thousands of kilometres (miles) into space.

