

Pioneer spaceprobe

A plaque into space

The spaceprobes Pioneer 10 and 11 carry engraved metal plaques. It is a space equivalent of a message in a bottle! The plaques reveal the Earth's place in the solar system, the probes' route away from the Earth, and give the outlines of a man and woman.

Gold-plated record with "Sounds of Earth" and cover for Voyager 1.

The record was mounted on a bracket on Voyager 1.

A record into space

The Voyager 1 and 2, both sent up in 1977, each carried a gold-plated LP record, a disc that has encoded sounds and photographs that will provide an alien intelligence with an idea of life on the Earth. There are greetings in 56 languages – and that includes a recording of whale song.

Turn and learn

Radio telescopes:
pp. 12-13

Other Earths:
pp. 100-101