

Spain

Moorish Palace

The Alhambra is a magnificent fortified palace in the city of Granada. It was built by the Moors, Muslim settlers from North Africa who occupied parts of Spain until 1491.

Fiery flamenco

The flamenco dance originated in Andalusia, southern Spain. It features intricate arm movements, rhythmic footwork, claps, and often castanets.

Seafood platter

First made in Valencia, paella is now popular throughout Spain. It contains rice, seafood, and vegetables and is usually cooked in a wide, shallow pan over an open fire.

Canary Islands

Lying off the coast of northwestern Africa, this Spanish archipelago is made up of seven volcanic islands.

La Sagrada Familia

This unique church in Barcelona was designed by the architect Antoni Gaudí. Its construction began in 1882, and it is still being built!

Spain is separated from the rest of Europe by the Pyrenees Mountains to the north. In the south, Spain is just 8 miles (13 km) from Morocco, across the Strait of Gibraltar. In between range 17 regions, each with its own character. Madrid, Europe's highest capital city at 2,200 ft (670 m), sits right in the center of the country. The Spanish Balearic Islands lie in the Mediterranean Sea, and the Canary Islands are found far to the south, in the Atlantic Ocean.
