

Pula Arena

Built in the 1st century BCE in Pula, this Roman amphitheater was used as a battleground for gladiators. It could hold up to 23,000 spectators.

Plitvice Lakes National Park

This vast nature reserve has many waterfalls, including the 52 ft (16 m) tall Galovački Buk waterfall.

- 📏 21,851 sq miles (56,594 sq km)
- 👤 4.2 million
- ★ Zagreb
- 🇦🇩 Croatian

Croatia has 3,700 miles (6,000 km) of Adriatic coastline, as well as idyllic islands and national parks, making it popular with tourists. The country was a part of Yugoslavia until 1991.

Croatia

Windsurfing

The strong winds along the Croatian coastline make perfect conditions for windsurfers. Many international windsurfing competitions are held here.

Griffon vulture

With a wingspan of up to 8.7 ft (2.65 m), the griffon vulture is among the world's largest birds. It nests on the northern islands, including Cres and Krk.

Walled city

Overlooking the Adriatic Sea in southern Croatia is Dubrovnik, known for the stone walls, red-roofed buildings, and historic forts of the Old Town as well as its popular beaches.

