

Myanmar

Bagan skyline

The beautiful city of Bagan features a stunning skyline of Buddhist temples built by its ancient rulers from the 11th century onward.

Bagan is a popular destination for hot-air ballooning.

Hkakabo Razi
5,885 m (19,308 ft)

BANGLADESH

Rakine Mountains

Sittwe

Ramree Island

Munaung Island

Bay of Bengal

Traditional parasols are made of bamboo, waxed cotton, or silk.

Buddhists in Myanmar wear maroon robes.

Young monks

Most of the country's population is Buddhist, and there are about 500,000 Buddhist monks. Boys train to be monks from the age of seven.

Shwebo

Mandalay

Myingyan

Taunggyi

Kengtung

Shan Plateau

Magway

Pyay

Phyu

Hinthada

Patheingyi

Yangon (Rangoon)

Mouths of the Ayeyarwady

Preparis

Great Coco Island

Thaon

Mawlamyine

Ye

Dawei

Myeik

Letsok-aw Kyun

Lanbi Kyun

Zadetyi Kyun

Andaman Sea

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

THAILAND

Kyaukse festival

A giant bamboo elephant takes center stage at this annual festival where dancers dressed as elephants parade in the streets.

0 150 km
0 150 miles
(approximate scale)

Eating tea

Although many nations drink tea, the people of Myanmar also eat it. Among the national favorites is laphet thoke, a pickled tea leaf salad.

Yangon city

Myanmar's largest and busiest city is Yangon (formerly Rangoon), which was the capital from 1948 to 2006.

- 261,228 sq miles (676,578 sq km)
- 56.6 million
- Nay Pyi Taw
- Burmese (Myanmar), other languages (+7)

Formerly called Burma, Myanmar is the second-largest country in Southeast Asia. It is known as "the land of golden pagodas" because of its thousands of spectacular temples.