

Tuvalu

White terns inhabit the Tuvalu islands.

Tuvalu is made up of nine tiny Pacific Islands. Around half of the population lives in Funafuti, where the government is based.

- ☑ 10 sq miles (26 sq km)
- 👤 11,350
- ★ Funafuti
- 🗨 Tuvaluan, Kiribati, English

Kiribati

The 33 islands of Kiribati are low-lying, making them at risk of floods due to rising sea levels caused by climate change.

- ☑ 313 sq miles (811 sq km)
- 👤 111,800
- ★ Tarawa
- 🗨 English, Kiribati

Lava-lava—pieces of cloth wrapped around the waist like a sarong—are worn on Kiribati and other South Pacific islands.

Samoa

While most Samoans are farmers, tourism is a growing industry as vacationers are drawn to the island's white-sand beaches.

- ☑ 1,093 sq miles (2,831 sq km)
- 👤 203,800
- ★ Apia
- 🗨 Samoan, English

A fautasi is a Samoan longboat.

Vanuatu

The 80 small islands of Vanuatu are largely mountainous and covered by rain forests. The islands have nine active volcanoes.

- ☑ 4,706 sq miles (12,189 sq km)
- 👤 298,350
- ★ Port-Vila
- 🗨 Bislama, English, French, other local languages

Vanuatu's Mt. Yasur volcano stands 1,184 ft (361 m) tall.

Fiji

Rugby is a popular sport in Fiji.

There are more than 300 islands in Fiji. Tourism and sugar are the nation's major industries. Most of the population lives on the two main islands, Viti Levu and Vanua Levu.

- ☑ 7,055 sq miles (18,274 sq km)
- 👤 936,000
- ★ Suva
- 🗨 Fijian, English, other languages (+4)

Tonga

This nation of 170 mostly uninhabited islands is a monarchy. Its main crops include bananas, squash, and vanilla beans.

- ☑ 288 sq miles (747 sq km)
- 👤 106,100
- ★ Nuku'alofa
- 🗨 English, Tongan

This Tongan hook is used to hang food away from rats.

