

Ivory Coast

Soccer legend

Twice African Footballer of the Year, the nation's top goal scorer is Didier Drogba. He has used his international profile to highlight critical issues in Ivory Coast and the rest of Africa.

0 100 km
0 100 miles
(approximate scale)

Basilica of Our Lady of Peace

Built in the 1980s in the capital of Yamoussoukro, this huge Catholic basilica is topped by a dome that is 489 ft (149 m) tall.

This West African nation (also known as Côte d'Ivoire) is one of the world's biggest cocoa exporters. Farming, fishing, and tourism are the main industries, thanks to vast areas of flat grassland and long, sandy beaches.

- 📏 124,504 sq miles (322,463 sq km)
- 👤 27.5 million
- ★ Yamoussoukro
- 🗣️ Akan, French, Krou, Voltaïque

Liberia

Making fufu

Fufu is popular in Liberian, and West African, cuisine. Served with stew, it is made from cassava roots, carefully prepared to form a white, sticky mash.

Pushing soaked cassava through a sieve is a step in one of the many ways to make fufu.

Coastal capital

On the Atlantic coast, Monrovia is Liberia's capital and largest city and also a major port. One-third of the total population lives here.

0 50 km
0 50 miles
(approximate scale)

Special spoon

Ceremonial wakemia ladles have been handcrafted for centuries. Carved out of wood in ornate designs, they are made to reward individual generosity.