

Ekom-Nkam waterfalls

The twin Waterfalls of Ekom-Nkam cascade 260 ft (80 m) down in the heart of Cameroon's lush rain forest near Nkongsamba.

Gourd rattle

This local instrument, known as a sekere, produces a sound similar to a rattle.

Cameroon

Africa

Goliath frog

Native to Cameroon and Equatorial Guinea, the world's largest frog can reach a length of 3 ft (1 m).

- ☑ 183,568 sq miles (475,440 sq km)
- 👤 27.8 million
- ★ Yaoundé
- 🗨 Bamileke, Fang, other languages (+3)

Cameroon's varied landscapes include volcanic mountains, tropical rain forests, and desert. Called the "hinge" of Africa for its location between West and Central Africa, the country is home to a diverse culture.

Guardian figures

The Kota people of Gabon crafted ornate guardian figures, known as mbulu-ngulus, to watch over their ancestral remains.

This figure's legs are coated in brass.

Gabon

Mont-Bouët market

The huge Mont-Bouët market in Libreville sells everything from fruit and vegetables to fabric printed in traditional styles.

Protecting wildlife

The Loango National Park south of Omboué provides sanctuary to many animals, including the African slender-snouted crocodile.

- ☑ 103,346 sq miles (267,667 sq km)
- 👤 2.2 million
- ★ Libreville
- 🗨 Fang, French, Punu, Sira, Nzebi, Mpongwe

A forested country on the west coast of Africa, Gabon is committed to preserving the natural environment. One-tenth of the land is protected for its flora and fauna.

