

Słowiński National Park

Słowiński National Park

On the Baltic coastline, this national park features sweeping dunes that move due to strong winds, revealing the remains of centuries-old forests.

Traditional dumplings

Popular in Poland, pierogi are savory dumplings stuffed with various fillings such as boiled potatoes and fried onions.

Wieliczka Salt Mine

Located just outside Kraków, Wieliczka produced table salt for about 700 years before mining stopped in 1996. Today, people can visit the mine for attractions such as the grand St. Kinga's Cathedral, carved entirely out of salt.

Wawel Royal Castle

The 14th-century castle of King Casimir III the Great overlooks the southern city of Kraków, known for its medieval center and Jewish quarter.

Wawel Cathedral and Sigismund's Chapel are a part of Wawel Castle.

Geography: Poland enjoys a rich landscape of forests, mountains, lakes, rivers, and beaches.

History: After World War II, Poland was allied to communist Russia. It became an independent republic in 1989.

Culture: Traditions based on local folklore and the festivals of the Roman Catholic Church are part of everyday life.

Natural wonders: The country is home to the vast Białowieża forest and National Park, one of the largest and oldest forests in Europe.

Wildlife: While bears are rare, wolves, bison, wild boar, elk, and foxes can all be found here. Birds include white storks and eagles.

Food and drink: Dumplings, stews, and sausages are all popular Polish dishes, often served with sauerkraut (pickled cabbage).