

The Universe is EVERYTHING. It's all of time and space and everything in it.

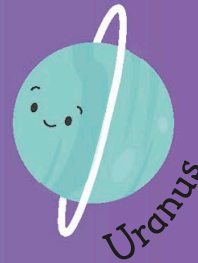

Sometimes you can spot Mars and other planets in the sky at night. They look tiny because they're so far away.

Jupiter

Saturn

Uranus

Neptune

Earth is the only planet we know of in the whole Universe that has living things (like you) on it.

Our Solar System

Earth is one of eight planets that spin around the Sun. Together they make up the Solar System.
