

Elizabeth loved ponies, and most of all enjoyed going for rides with her father.

Wales, joined them. After tea, there were often card games, such as Snap. Bath time was followed by boisterous pillow fights with Mummy and Papa before bed. The princesses slept in a nursery at the very top of the house. Elizabeth kept her toy horses outside on the landing, putting them to bed each night. Elizabeth was a neat child, placing books

